Choosing Founder's Award Winner

- The group discussed the nominees and heard the feedback provide by Wayne Carlson and Ben McCorkle, who were not able to be present today.
- There was a question about scope – are we recognizing the teaching of a discipline, or teaching as a greater whole at Ohio State?
- Question about whether we recognize individuals or whole departments
- We discussed order of business – there are some groups more intricately connected with the Academy of Teaching and its mission that ought to be recognized in these earlier years, before we branch out a little further.
- The winner was chosen (not named here for confidentiality).

- Tony Ciccone is our keynote speaker.
- President Drake will attend to make opening remarks.
- We will present the Founder's Award at lunch.
